

Health Matters

by
Patsy Meridith, C.N.C.
Owner of Natural Foods Market

One of the most common health concerns people have is a lack of energy. Of course, your energy level is the result of over-all lifestyle choices, such as getting enough rest, eating a healthy diet and getting exercise regularly. Unfortunately, there's just not always enough time to take care of these all-important matters.

A healthy way to help you get that extra boost of energy daily is a new fermented organic superfood called Whole Earth Fermented Greens, a blend of organic green foods, 8 servings of fruits & vegetables and 5 immune-boosting mushrooms, which provide a synergistic spectrum of nutritional benefits.

As a means of nourishing and invigorating digestion and metabolism, Whole Earth Fermented Greens alkalizes, detoxifies and energizes. Available in unflavored, tropical or chocolate flavor, it's certified for purity and potency, non-GMO, vegan, free of gluten & dairy and is naturally sweetened.

As always, we guarantee your satisfaction.

Locally owned for 37 years

 NATURAL FOODS MARKET

610-1000

near Old Navy

www.NFMonline.com