According to the AMA, seeking pain relief is the most common reason for doctor visits. Unfortunately, inadvertent addiction has led to an opioid crisis with the over-use of prescription pain killers. But, even the regular use of over-the-counter NSAID's can cause liver and kidney damage as well as gastrointestinal bleeding and cost us billions of dollars a year.

Risky, addictive drugs used for post-surgical, temporary trauma or chronic pain relief can be avoided. Turmeric is a non-addictive natural pain reliever that is highly effective. A supplement called Curamin contains not only a highly absorbable form of turmeric, but also DLPA (pain-relieving amino acid) and Boswellia (anti-inflammatory herb).

Clinical research studies show that the turmeric in Curamin has up to 10 times the absorption rate of the standard form, effectively regulates pain-causing inflammation and has no toxicity or dangerous side effects. There's Curamin Extra Strength, as well.

As always, we guarantee your satisfaction.
