A properly functioning thyroid gland is crucial for the regulation of energy, digestion, libido, weight and many other metabolic functions. During midlife, an estimated 70% of women and 50% of men experience symptoms linked with some level of thyroid deficiency or "hypothyroidism".

Commonly associated with "hypothyroidism" are symptoms such as thinning hair, dry skin, irritability, fatigue, lack of libido and unexplained weight gain. Without adequate amounts of the mineral, iodine, and the amino acid, L-tyrosine, our thyroid gland is unable to sufficiently produce thyroxin, the hormone that regulates these metabolic functions.

Thyroid Care, a simple supplement combining these two essential nutrients, iodine and L-tyrosine, is designed to provide targeted support and nourishment for the thyroid gland, enabling those affected to have more energy, thicker hair, improved digestion and better weight control. It can make a difference!

As always, we guarantee your satisfaction.
